AMERICAN LANGUAGE COURSE

PREFACE

This Tape Support Material Booklet accompanies Tapes 2301C-2310C, to be used with Volume 2300 of the American Language Course (ALC). This tape support material provides for active student participation in the language laboratory.

The ALC materials consist of the Pre-Elementary Phase; the Elementary Phase; the Intermediate Phase; the Advanced Phase; and the Specialized Phase, in which students concentrate on the technical vocabulary of one of several military specialties such as flying, ordnance, electronics, etc. Most volumes of the American Language Course are accompanied by similarly numbered pre-recorded tapes which provide aural-oral and written exercises coordinated with the contents of the volumes. Special student texts and workbooks, instructor texts, tests, and other materials have also been prepared for use with these volumes.

The American Language Course is designed for an intensive language training program to provide students who do not understand and speak English with sufficient skill in English to enable them to pursue technical or professional training in various schools sponsored by the Department of Defense of the United States of America.

The American Language Course is published by the Defense Language Institute, English Language Center. This publication is for use by schools of the Defense Language Institute as part of the Defense Language Program. It is also for use by schools under technical control of the Defense Language Institute.

Inquiries concerning these materials, including requests for copies or authority to reproduce materials contained therein, should be addressed to Commandant, Defense Language Institute, English Language Center, ATTN: LESS, Lackland Air Force Base, Texas 78236.
